

FG Dispels Speculations on Negotiation with ASUU ...Talks to Resume After Salah Holidays

The Minister of Labour and Employment, Dr. Chris Ngige has dispelled the speculation of uncertainty over talks between the Federal Government and the Academic Staff Union of Universities. A statement from the Ministry of Labour and Employment disclosed that the Minister and the Minister of Education would resume negotiations with the striking union after the salah holidays.

It would be recalled that during last Week's Federal Executive Council (FEC) Meeting presided over by President Muhammadu Buhari, the matter was discussed.

After the meeting, Government through the Minister of Labour, Dr. Ngige told State House reporters that the Vice-President may be drafted to lead discussions in some aspects of the negotiations if necessary.

In his words: “Government is leaving no stone unturned to make sure that we reach a conclusive agreement with ASUU so that they can go back to the classroom. This is the first national strike that this government is facing and we want to discuss. At Council today, the Vice-President has taken over some of the aspects of the negotiations and discussions.”

The Honourable Minister added that we are continuing the meeting in his office and when we finish meeting, we will get back to ASUU for another round of meeting and we are hopeful that we will be able to go to an appreciable extent to solve some of the outstanding issues that is preventing them from going to back to work.

In a related event, the Minister said the private sector was delaying the announcement of the chairman of the new minimum wage committee, as the Government side is ready, emphasising that the government side has four Ministers- Ministers of Labour and Employment, Finance, Budget and National Planning, and one other Minister.

“We also have the Head of Civil Service of the Federation, Acting Secretary to the Government of the Federation on the government team. The Chairman will be unveiled when we have full component of the Committee, he stated.

He said the organised private sector has eight representatives out of which the Nigeria Employers Consultative Assembly (NECA) has four, Manufacturers Association of Nigeria (MAN) has two, Nigeria Association of Small Medium Enterprise (NASME) has one and NACCIMA one. So far, he said, only MAN submitted its two nominees.

It would also be recalled that the National President, Association of Academic Staff Union of Universities announced the commencement of another round of strike effective Sunday , 23rd August, 2017 after a meeting of the National Executive Council of the union in Abuja. Although series of meetings were held, the union and the Federal Government were yet to come to terms.

There was a progress made in the last meeting between the Government team and ASUU, the National Executive Committee of the union went back to their Congresses were they came up with another proposal to the government and the government also made some offer which ASUU would also consider. A source indicated that the negotiation might continue this week to consider both parties demand and offers with a view of finding a workable solution.

With the anticipated chairmanship of the Vice President and backing of the Federal Executive Council, NUC is optimistic that the strike would soon be suspended, lecturers and students return back to classes.

GERAN delegation pays Courtesy Call on NUC

The Board of Trustees of the Gerontology Association of Nigeria (GERAN) led by its Chairman, Ambassador Usman Sarki, last Wednesday, paid a courtesy call on the Executive Secretary, National Universities Commission (NUC) Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed, mni, MFR to intimate him of the aims and objectives of GERAN.

Receiving the delegation on behalf of the Executive Secretary, the Deputy Executive Secretary, (DES), Malam Ibrahim Dan 'Iya congratulated the group for establishing the Association and for their continued efforts at advancing the frontiers of Gerontology in the country. He observed that considering the importance of the group, the Executive Secretary would have loved to receive the group but had travelled out of the country. The DES recalled that he had been part of the Gerontology group at some point. He advised the group to take advantage of the fact that GERAN was a young Association to rally round, get the GERAN fully registered and monitor practitioners of the programmes across the country.

Amb. Usman Sarki receiving copies of NUC Monday Bulletin from Deputy Executive Secretary, Administration, Mal. Ibrahim Dan'Iya

Mal. Dan'Iya, making his remarks at the meeting

The Deputy Executive Secretary said that the Commission was desirous of sensitising the public on the need to promote Gerontology in the Nigerian University System (NUS) hence the invitation and engagement of Dr. Emen Omokaro as a consultant and as a visiting scholar in the NUC to pilot the project in 2010. He stated that these efforts led to the development of a Benchmark Minimum Academic Standards (BMAS) for the programme which is now being taught at the post graduate level. He assured the group that the Commission would continue to promote the project as it was very important to have a deliberate policy in place to cater for the elderly and the aged.

Malam Dan'Iya informed the group that the Commission would consider inviting the group and stakeholders as well as professional bodies to meetings of the NUC where discussions on curriculum reviews and development would be held in view of its importance in the country. He informed the group that the Commission engages major stakeholders to critically review the Curriculum, adding that the Commission would be reaching out to the group whenever the need arose. He also advised the group to create synergy and collaborations in geriatrics and gerontology in Nigeria.

The Deputy Executive Secretary gave the historical background of the NUC which started as an administrative unit in the Cabinet office regulating only five universities in 1962 and to a statutory body in 1974. The Commission now manages 153 universities, comprising 40 Federal, 44 States and 68 private universities.

He informed the group that the Commission currently has 12 departments including Six technical and six servicing departments to respond to the growing number of universities in the country, reiterating that the Commission was the only regulatory agency responsible for setting of minimum academic standards and monitoring other activities of the universities to ensure quality of Nigerian graduates that can compete favourably with other graduates globally.

Earlier in his remarks, the Chairman of the delegation, Ambassador Sarki appreciated the Commission for nurturing the Gerontology programme in the NUS. The Ambassador said that the visit was to among other things appreciate the Commission for its roles in midwifing the programme. He said that the aims and objectives of GERAN included the promotion of healthy ageing and improving the quality of life of older persons; to effectively advocate for inclusive development for the benefit of all ages; to encourage collaborative inter-disciplinary and inter-sectoral research and its application; and to build human capacity in all facets of ageing through seminars, workshops, conferences and scientific publications.

The Chairman said that the visit was also to discuss the proposed launching of GERAN and its international conference for which participants would be drawn from the academia, government, private sector, civil society organisations and the older persons. He reiterated that the Board was made up of men and women of proven integrity who have distinguished themselves in their chosen fields and career.

Ambassador Sarki said that ageing is a natural and compulsory occurrence which every human must undergo, hence the need to deliberately prepare for it. He said that the preparation for ageing should start immediately. Amb. Sarki said that GERAN was ready to join hands with the Commission in building a healthy history for the elderly. He observed that one of the articles of the United Nations had provided for the care of the elderly in view of the significant contributions they had made to the society.

In her remarks, the Executive Director, Dave Omokaro Foundation (DOF) Dr. Emem Omokaro stated that the choice of NUC as the first point of call by the group was in recognition of the pioneering role the Commission played in introducing Gerontology programme in the entire Nigerian University System (NUS).

In their separate comments, the Directors, Accreditation, Dr. Biodun Noel Saliu and Liaison Services and International Corporation, Mrs. Constance Goddy-Nnadi commended Dr Omokaro for the determination and courage to actualize the dream from her Doctoral Theses and lend their support and that of their colleagues in advancing the course of the GERAN as well as recognised the calibre of personalities that form the Board of trustees.

Other members of the BOT at the meeting were Dr. Oscar Atumah; Dr. Emeka Okengoon; Engr. Emeraku Ijioma, OON; Chief Kikelomo Lanionu Edward; Ambassador Habib Habu, OON and Acting Director, Corporate Communication, Mr. Haruna LawalAjo.

CCB Sensitises NUC Staff on Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct Bureau (CCB), last Wednesday, organised a one-day enlightenment campaign on the need for compliance by staff of the National Universities Commission and the entire country with the code of conduct for public servants.

Delivering his lecture from the Code of Conduct Bureau and Tribunal Act, the representative of the CCB, Mr. Obi said that the essence of the enlightenment campaign was to ensure that public servants adhere strictly to the ethics, laid down rules and regulations as well as the codes of conduct in the discharge of government business. This, he said, became necessary in order to deal with the complaints of corruption and abuse of office by some public servants, adding that “the aims and objectives of the Bureau shall be to establish and maintain a high standard of morality in the conduct of government business and to ensure that the actions and behaviour of public officers conform to the highest standards of public morality and accountability.”

Mr. Obi said that the Code of Conduct for public officers comprises of fourteen Codes that include Assets Declaration (AD), which every public officer was expected to adhere to, in the conduct of his official duties.

Prof. Abubakar Adamu Rasheed, mni, MFR
Executive Secretary, NUC

Essentially, he said, the 14 codes were meant to ensure that the actions and behaviours of public officers conform to the highest standards of public morality and accountability. The Code of Conduct is also meant to discourage public officers from the culture of graft, greed, materialism, ill-gotten wealth and conflict of interest in the performance of public duties. The CCB campaigner took the NUC staff through the 14 steps and provided relevant examples for better understanding.

Mr. Obi said that the strategic objective of the enlightenment campaign was to ensure strict compliance with the statutory mandate of the Bureau in accordance with international best practices, saying that asset declaration was expected to be done every four years. In addition, he said, this was also to ensure that all public officers in the federation comply with the constitutional provisions on Asset Declaration, educate and sensitise public officers on their constitutional responsibilities and the consequences of non-compliance with the code of conduct for public officers.

He gave an incisive and analytical insights based on practical operations and experience on the technical issues associated with the constitutional provisions of the Code of Conduct for public officers. He explained that the process of submitting the duly completed Asset Declaration Form was reviewed and made easier and could be concluded in a matter of hours

The Executive Secretary, National Universities Commission (NUC), Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed, Mni, MFR, represented by the Director, Management Support Services, Barr. Victor U. Onuoha, while welcoming the team and making his remarks expressed the hope that the enlightenment would afford staff of the Commission the opportunity to listen to the Code of Conduct Bureau officers on the rules and conduct expected from public officers. He mentioned that the enlightenment campaign was timely and in consonance with the current Government's resolve to be proactive in tackling corruption and corrupt officers. The Director assured the NUC staff that they would be properly guided and thoroughly informed on not only Asset declaration procedure but actions and behaviours expected of any public officer in active service and to some extent even after retirement. He urged staff to listen attentively and internalize what would be explained to them.

While taking NUC staff on the Procedure of proper manner of completing the Asset Declaration Form (ADF), the CCB officer, Mr. M. Okwuse explained that the form was designed to monitor public servants regardless of rank. The ADF spelt out what should be declared including assets and properties of spouses and dependants provided such persons were not employed and /or under 18 years of age. The CCB officer informed the gathering that the form provided limited spaces, however, officers filling the form were required to photocopy, fill and attach any additional information deemed to be necessary in pursuant of this act.

Mr. Okwuse concluded by saying that the ADF should be filled after every four years, stressing that those who took up appointments recently and those who filled prior to 2013 were encouraged to pick up the forms, fill and sign before a High Court Judge before submitting same copies to CCB. The officer who submitted the ADF should collect an acknowledgement receipt as evidence of compliance with the provisions of the CCB.

In a vote of thanks, the Deputy Director, Establishment and Staff matters, Mr. Wilbor Nnaji appreciated the CCB officials for the timely enlightenment and education. He enjoined staff of the Commission to comply with the provisions of the code of conduct and fill their asset declaration appropriately and thanked everybody for being part of the exercise.

NUC EXTENDS DEADLINE FOR THE PUBLICATION OF NIGERIAN UNIVERSITIES YEARBOOK

The National Universities Commission is in the process of publishing a Directory/Handbook of Nigerian Universities (Nigerian Universities Yearbook).

The Yearbook will essentially serve as a handbook of reference on Universities in Nigeria and is expected to provide easy access to one-stop information on principal officers, programmes available, entry requirements, list of academic staff, especially the professorial cadre and contact officers for strategic operations within the university system.

Pursuant to the achievement of this objective, Vice Chancellors of Nigerian universities were requested since 28th June, 2017, to furnish the Commission with information in a prescribed format duly forwarded to all Universities with an initial deadline of 28th July which was later extended to 11th August, 2017. Regrettably, however many Universities are yet to supply the requisite information.

Consequently, the Commission has decided on final extension which will terminate on 15th September, 2017.

Vice-Chancellors of Nigeria universities should please note that the Commission will go ahead with the publication of the year book at the end of this deadline whether or not all universities have supplied the required data.

The Commission counts on the prompt response of defaulting universities to ensure that all Nigerian Universities are accounted for in the 2017 (maiden) edition of the Nigerian University Year book/ Directory .

NATIONAL UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION IPSAS IMPLEMENTATION

Nexia
Agbo Abel & Co

Introduction:

The Federal Executives Council at its meeting held on 28th July 2010 approved that Nigeria should adopt the provisions of the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) for Private and Public Sectors respectively.

Consequently, the Federation Accounts Standards Allocation Committee (FAAC) at its meeting held on 13th June 2011 setup a Sub-Committee to provide a roadmap for the implementation of IPSAS in the three tiers of government in Nigeria.

The Roadmap to the adoption of IPSAS was phased as follows:

- Full Adoption of IPSAS Cash effective from 1st January, 2014.
- Adoption of IPSAS Accrual effective from 1st January 2016.

The National Universities Commission (NUC) has commenced the IPSAS implementation project that will enable a seamless adoption of the IPSAS accrual in the preparation and presentation of Financial Statements in line with the directives of Federation Accounts Allocation Committee (FAAC) Sub-Committee on implementation of IPSAS.

Implementation Approach:

NUC is partnering with Nexia Agbo Abel & Co, to adopt a phased implementation approach which shall focus on the following areas;

NATIONAL UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION

ADVERTORIAL CONFIRMATION OF APPROVAL OF THE NIGERIAN UNIVERSITIES e-LEARNING PROGRAMME

The general public is hereby informed that whereas the Commission maintains its stand that online degrees are not accepted in Nigeria at the moment, this does not include the approved Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme run within the shores of Nigeria.

The Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme is a legitimate and well thought out pilot e-learning initiative. It is a Public Private Partnership between the National Universities Commission (NUC), Park Associates E-Learning Group, and four federal universities. Its goal is to provide new opportunities for students to access university education in Nigeria.

The four Participating Universities are:

- i. University of Uyo;
- ii. National Open University of Nigeria;
- iii. Usmanu Danfodiyo University, Sokoto; and
- iv. University of Maiduguri.

Students enrolled in the Programme can select any of the following undergraduate degree programmes: Economics, Banking & Finance, Accounting, Business Administration and Marketing for which they have requisite qualifications. The Programme for now is only available for candidates who wish to obtain BSc Degree in Economics.

The Commission wishes to use this medium to allay all fears and doubts concerning the legitimacy or NUC endorsement of the Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme. This is one of the avenues that the National Universities Commission is exploring to increase access to university education without compromising quality. Students in the Programme are therefore advised to continue to pursue their studies without fear and prospective applicants are encouraged to enrol. Concerned parents, guardians, students and the general public may contact the Commission for further clarification on the Programme under reference.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION

IMPLEMENTING STEPS FOR NEW MEDICAL SCHOOLS, ACCREDITATION ISSUES AND THE NEW MINIMUM BENCHMARK (2015) FOR THE MBBS/BDS PROGRAMMES

PROGRAMMES

Following several Stakeholders' meetings in the last two years and as a prelude to the formal release of the New Minimum Academic Benchmark (2015), proprietors of Medical and Dental Schools in Nigeria (both current and prospective) are requested to note the following implementing steps including relevant adjustments relating to accreditation of Medical/Dental Schools.

1. From 1st September 2015, both current and prospective proprietors of Medical and Dental Schools should:
 - a. Write a letter to the Executive Secretary stating their intent and provide relevant information as available.
 - b. On receipt, (if NUC has no obvious reasons to disqualify the application), they would be sent a copy of the BMAS for MBBS/BDS and advised firmly to ensure that they are strictly complied with.

- c. The setting up of medical schools is not an emergency exercise. To this end, prospective proprietors must own and have in place (prior to a request for a Resource Verification), a fully functional and well run tertiary type hospital. In the circumstance of the above not being in place, consideration for an affiliation with a tertiary government-owned institution may be given only when the said university owns a medical institution fully functional with a minimum of 150 beds and a rural health medical unit. (See Appendix 4 of the BMAS).
 - d. A Pre-clinical Accreditation would be expected to take place within two years of a positive Resource Verification. Students can only sit for the second MBBS professional examination (Anatomy, Physiology and Biochemistry) when they have a successful preclinical accreditation. The preclinical accreditation would, amongst others, concentrate largely on the Department of Anatomy, Biochemistry, Physiology, Pathology and Pharmacology and to a lesser extent, Community Health. All evaluated departments must have the minimum requirements in terms of academic staff, non academic staff and laboratory facilities. (See Appendix 3 of the BMAS)
 - e. The Commission has now approved a Clinical Accreditation expected to take place within twelve months of a successful preclinical accreditation. Subsequent to that, a reaccreditation exercise will take place every five years.
2. With respect to established medical schools, (and irrespective of their accreditation status), it should be noted that only institutions that (by the deadline of March 20th, 2016) have requested and obtained formal approval from the National Universities Commission for a re-evaluation based on the following considerations would be allowed to admit students into the MBBS/BDS programmes from the 2016/2017 academic year:
 - a. All Medical and Dental schools must have an approved, and appropriately utilized, Clinical Skills/Simulation centre.
 - b. Ensure strict adherence to the proper use of the course system for all approved programmes in Nigerian Universities. The implication of the above is that a particular programme (subject) is taught not only broken into cluster units of 1-4 but also have the components of university supervised examinations. For clarity, current end of posting examinations (practiced by some medical/dental schools) that neither have units allocated nor follow the standards of a University examination, do not conform to the Minimum Academic Standards as established by the National Universities Commission.
 - c. Universities are strongly urged to immediately review their current methods of teaching medical and dental students to include more tutorials, self study group teaching, use of IT in the delivery of courses and simulation/competency based evaluations that must be signed by a lecturer not below the status of a senior lecturer. It must be noted that the confirmation of a successful simulation/competency based evaluation should be a mandatory requirement before the students are eligible to sit for the various professional/sessional examinations
 3. Proprietors are urged to note the Essential Component changes of the new curriculum expected to be in use from the 2016/2017 academic session. Details of these changes are available in the New Minimum Academic standards booklet and at the National Universities Commission website. (www.nuc.edu.ng) Major components include the following:
 - (a) The approval of three alternative models viz;
 - i. A seven year MBBS/BDS programme that encompass a mandatory seamless four-year acquisition of the B.Sc. (Basic Medical Science) with interest in either Anatomy/Physiology/Biochemistry. At the end of seven years, students would have acquired the Bachelor of Basic Medical Science, Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery degrees. In case of the dental programmes, the students would have acquired a degree in Basic Dental Science and Bachelor of Dental Surgery.
 - ii. In order to allow for career change for interested non-medical health professionals, the Commission has also approved a four year programme leading to MBBS/BDS for interested and qualified graduates of Nursing, Pharmacology, Physiotherapy, Image Science, Paramedics, Anatomy, Physiology, Biochemistry and Pharmacology. It must be noted for such to be considered for admission they must have at the WAEC/NECO levels minimum credit scores in Mathematics, English, Physics, Chemistry and Biology at one sitting, prior to the admissions for their first degrees. They must also have a good CGPA.
 - iii. Admission into universities based on the current six year programme would be allowed to continue as suitable alternative based on the discretion of the University.
 - iv. It should be noted and emphasized that all the above degrees have the Bachelor appellation as they remain undergraduate programmes.
 - (b) Specific periods of posting to the department of Family Medicine. The obvious implication here is that, the Universities should create the Department of Family Medicine following their due process.
 - (c) Redesignation of the Department of Pharmacology to the Department of Pharmacology and Therapeutics. The department is now expected to provide relevant basic clinical teaching and conduct relevant professional examination in Pharmacology. They will also be expected to provide relevant clinical teaching in Therapeutics. All Universities should set in motion the machinery to achieve the above.
 4. In view of the above essential component changes of the new curriculum, the Commission will be organising a National training for Medical teachers in Nigerian Universities. Details of the training would be made available shortly.
 5. Interested stakeholders are invited to send comments/suggestions on the above to: The Executive Secretary, NUC, rasheed3h@gmail.com and copy to chiedu.mafiana@gmail.com

List of Universities with Approved Postgraduate Programmes

The National Universities Commission (NUC) has observed with great concern that some Nigerian universities are running unapproved postgraduate programmes, leading to the award of Masters and PhD degrees.
