The National Universities Commission (NUC), in conjunction with the Committee of Pro-Chancellors (CPC) and the Committee of Vice-Chancellors (CVC) last Tuesday, organised a 2-day high level retreat for Governing Councils of Nigerian federal universities, with the theme 'Elements of Statutory Governance, Procurement and Financial Accounting in Nigerian Universities'.

The retreat was part of efforts towards ensuring probity, accountability and transparency in all aspects of university governance.

Declaring the forum open, the Minister of Education Mal. Adamu Adamu who was represented by the Minister of State for Education, Prof. Anthony Anwukah, noted that with the advent of knowledge economy in the 21st century, educational competencies rather than natural resources were responsible for national development.

He said that both the developed and developing countries strived to mobilise education as a key factor for economic growth and national development.

He said, “Human capital development is essential to the attainment of the goals of the various national and international and the universities have critical roles to play in the development of the critical mass of manpower that drive various national economies”.

Mal. Adamu remarked that the hallmark of university education was the academic programmes they offered. He decried the situation where some universities commenced academic programmes without the requisite human and material resources, thereby, circumventing due process in the approval of their programmes.

He emphasised that it was the responsibility of Governing Councils to ensure that academic programmes were in line with the core mandates of the universities, met international standards and accredited by the NUC, adding that Governing Councils must ensure that academic culture and tradition were maintained in universities.

He condemned the practice where convocation ceremonies which were supposed to be solemn academic affairs had been turned into rowdy funfairs and political rallies as a result of honorary degree awards.

“It is important that we consciously remember that a university ceases to be relevant when it falls short of its tripartite function of teaching, research and community service. In all our dealings as members of the Governing Councils and Management of universities, the traditional culture of universities which was built on excellence, must be preserved. It behoved the Council and Management of universities to work in harmony to actualise their responsibilities”.

The Minister further stated that some of the critical issues that required urgent attention in Nigerian universities were those relating to access without compromising quality, infrastructure, and facilities, curriculum update, quality assurance, governance and funding among others.

He expressed optimism that the retreat would provide the necessary platform for Council, Management and government interaction that would facilitate maximum understanding of those challenges and proffer the way forward. He therefore, called on the Chairmen and members of the Governing Councils of Nigerian universities to join hands with the government to transform Nigerian universities to world-class status.

Presenting an overview of the NUS, the Chairman, NUC Board, Prof. Ayo Banjo, explained that though the NUS was barely 70 years as compared to other university systems that had been in existence for centuries, it was necessary to understand that globally, universities played the same role of imparting knowledge and creating new ideas to enhance teaching, research and community service for nation building.

He said that from the medieval era, students had been the centrepiece of universities as they were the agents of development. He said that the essence of university education was to advance the intellectual development of the student on critical thinking other than just acquiring knowledge, which principle, he said, led to the industrial revolution in Europe.

The Chairman, reminded that an ideal university consisted of a community of thinkers who worked for the good of humanity and therefore, a graduate who could not think intellectually was not worthy of a degree. He said that the soul of a university relied on the map it imprinted on its students, adding that the government allowed the university system to be relevant based on what the universities would contribute to the country's development.

Prof. Banjo charged Nigerian universities on the need to ensure that the noble cause of university education was maintained by striving for relevance and recognition through adopting best practices, as no university could successfully operate outside the global system.

The NUC Board Chairman, therefore, seize the opportunity to commended NUC for drawing up appropriate criteria for ranking in a bid to promote global competitiveness in the NUS.

The Chairman noted that the efforts by foreign universities to attract Nigerian students for global recognition with huge financial implications. He emphasised that internationalisation of the NUS lamented the underfunding of university education in Nigeria which had been the bane for low performance, poor quality of teaching and research as well as products. He urged the NUS to think outside the box by engaging in blue chip investments that would be huge sources of internally generated revenues.

On the retreat, Prof. Banjo said that it was focused on training participants on appropriate remediation, commending the coordinators for putting finance at the front burner and called on the university Councils to ensure that the resolutions of the retreat were implemented in the management of the institutions' resources. He urged the Councils and university Senates to work harmoniously to produce quality graduates that would place Nigeria on the world map.

Welcoming the participants, the Executive Secretary, NUC, Prof. Abubakar Rasheed, expressed delight at the commencement of the long-awaited retreat, stating that it was coming at a time when the Commission was embarking on a bold mission of reforming the Nigerian Universities Commission (NUS). He said that the retreat had to its credit, a crop of distinguished resource persons that would help to equip participants with the necessary knowledge to make a difference in the system.

Prof. Rasheed asserted that governance was the driving force of higher education subsector all over the world, stressing that the present governance structure and process in the NUS revealed a very disturbing situation characterised by poor leadership, corrupt practices, avoidable conflicts, general under performance, profound parochialism and inadequate teaching and learning environments.

He further explained that poor leadership and bad governance had constituted stumbling blocks for the universities, thereby, making it difficult to generate original knowledge, build character, drive innovation and contribute significantly towards national development.

He attributed many of the manifest problems of Nigerian universities to the crisis in their governance and leadership, which he said, had frustrated effective and efficient management of the institutions' human, financial, material and educational resources.

The NUC Scribe urged the participants to be open and receptive to new ideas and to actively engage the Resource persons with the hope that at the end, they would go back to their respective institutions better equipped with the proper leadership skills to move the universities forward, which in turn, would move the Country to greater heights

Prof. Rasheed use the opportunity to present some very profound seminal documents on the university system, the first in the West Africa sub region

In his goodwill message, the Chairman, CPC, Professor Munzali Jibril expressed the Committee's gratitude to the Commission for taking the onerous task of hosting such an important forum. He prayed that the knotty issues such as the ambiguity surrounding the procurement process and who had full authority over it, would be clarified.

He commended the participants for availing themselves of the opportunity to learn about financial accounting and new systems of financial reporting, for the progress of the university system.

The Chairman, CVC, who was represented by the Vice Chancellor, University of Maiduguri, Prof. Ibrahim Njodi, also appreciated the Commission for hosting such invaluable retreat that would hopefully address the conflict between universities Governing Councils and Vice-Chancellors.

He hoped that the forum would also present the opportunity for the politicians and the academics in the education sector to understand themselves better.

He pointed out that the present administration had the best interest for the education sector judging from the calibre and number of academics and experienced professionals engaged in the Governing councils of the sector. He expressed optimism that such a retreat would provide the real direction for policies to be effectively implemented.

In his keynote address, the Chairman of the retreat, Mal. Adamu Fika, commended NUC for convening key stakeholders in the education sector for the purpose of refreshing them of their responsibilities on the general policy direction of the present administration as it related to university governance.

He added that the retreat would provide a platform for promoting a good working relationship among universities administrators, with the aim of improving the overall quality of university education in Nigeria.

The major highlight at the ceremony was the presentation of copies of the publications compiled by the NUC Strategy Advisory Committee titled 'The State of University Education in Nigeria, 2017', Statistical Digest and two (2) Monographs to the Minister of Education.

Presenting the publications to the Minister of State for Education, Prof. Anthony Anwukah, who represented the Minister of Education, the Executive Secretary, NUC, Prof. Abubakar A. Rasheed explained that the Commission was poised towards ensuring quality and standards in the NUS.

The NUC Scribe said that to achieve its goal of repositioning the NUS, the Commission set up a high powered Strategy Advisory Committee made up of experienced and reputable academics to chart a new course for the university system in Nigeria.

The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights of the United Nations and the Centre for Human Rights, University of Pretoria, invite

to participate in the

10th NELSON MANDELA WORLD HUMAN RIGHTS MOOT COURT COMPETITION,

PALAIS DES NATIONS, GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, 15 – 20 July 2018

Students from all universities in the world are invited to participate in the prestigious Nelson Mandela World Human Rights Moot Court Competition in 2018. The year 2018 will not only mark the tenth year in the life of the Competition, but it will also be an opportunity to celebrate the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and the 100th birthday of human rights icon Nelson Mandela. The final rounds will be held at the United Nations Headquarters in Geneva from 15 to 20 July.

Each year undergraduate and masters' level students who wish to participate in the Competition submit written legal arguments for the opposing sides in a fictional dispute involving some of the burning human rights issues of the day. The teams with the highest scores from each of the five UN regions are then invited to participate in the final, oral rounds in the Human Rights Council Chamber in the Palais des Nations. The case is heard by a panel of eminent international jurists, including judges from international tribunals. Many participants have described participation in the Moot as the highlight of their studies.

In 2018 the Competition will for the first time be presented not only in English, but also in French. In future years the other UN languages, namely Spanish, Chinese, Russian and Arabic, will also be used.

The teams that are selected to participate in the final rounds in Geneva are expected to cover their own traveling costs as well as accommodation and meals, although limited financial assistance is available.

The last day for submission of memorials is 16 April 2018.

International Network on Appropriate Technology (INAT)

Endogenous Knowledge, Appropriate Technology and Innovation: Linking the Past and the Future

The 8th International Conference on Appropriate Technology will

- 1) Promote Knowledge-based Endogenous Development and the diffusion of related innovations to support Appropriate Technology (AT) practice
- 2) Identify, initiate and combine AT contributions based on both pre-modern and modern knowledge in a manner that is rooted in an appropriate historical perspective
- 3) Provide a forum for networking on AT solutions for the 21st century through the recognition, valorization and re-appropriation of locally-grounded knowledge and practices

Background

Locally-grounded and useful knowledge, both tacit and codified, is one of the most reliable bases for long term, sustainable prosperity. Unfortunately, much of this knowledge remains under-recognized and undervalued, with tumkey solutions from elsewhere often being presented as readily available or convenient. At present, large numbers of people in the Global South, particularly in Africa, still lack access to clean water, sanitation, clean energy, reliable food and nutrition, and safe transportation, among other challenges. Yet in those same societies, some people have time-tested, demonstrable approaches to resolving them, while others are engaged in cutting-edge scientific research and technological development.

All of these, to the extent that they are informed by contextually-relevant needs, and priorities represent an endogenous knowledge resource base. However, refining, upgrading, applying and diffusing this knowledge in the form of improved products, services and practices also requires the dissemination of lessons and experiences between similarly motivated actors from a broad cross-section of any given society: In exploring various local challenges together from an Appropriate Technology perspective, we believe that we can contribute to a more plural, multi-centric, equitable, sustainable and ultimately more just global community.

ADVERTORIAL

NUC MAKES HISTORY IN RANKING OF OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES (OER)

The National Universities Commission has made history in conducting the first-ever ranking of Open Educational Resources (OER) held in institutional repositories. It is the first exercise of its kind in the world and it was initiated by the Executive Secretary of NUC, Professor Abubakar Rasheed, Mni, MFR for application in the Nigerian University System. The exercise showed that with 12,070 quality OER holdings presented by 50 universities for the inaugural exercise, Nigerian Universities are now among the best in Africa in OER. It is estimated that with full release of the OER holdings and participation by all universities, this number may quadruple in the next two years making the Nigerian University system the richest in OER in Africa. The OER ranking exercise is to be conducted twice a year.

Open Educational Resources (OER) are teaching, learning and research materials in any medium, digital or otherwise, that reside in the public domain or have been released under an open license that permits no-cost access, use, adapt and redistribute by others with no or limited restrictions. They are technology-enabled, open provision of educational resources for consultation, use and adaptation by a community of users for non-commercial purposes. Materials that constitute OER include curriculum maps, course materials, textbooks, streaming videos, pictorial materials, multimedia applications, podcast, and any other materials that have been designed for use in teaching and learning environment.

The OER ranking exercise was conducted by the 12-member National Experts Group on OER Ranking (NEGOR) and a four-person team of external experts from outside Nigeria.

Fifty universities that participated in the inaugural edition were ranked by (a) ownership (federal, State and private) and (b) generation within ownership. The results are shown below.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION

ADVERTORIAL ON CONFIRMATION OF APPROVAL OF THE NIGERIAN UNIVERSITIES e-LEARNING PROGRAMME

The general public is hereby informed that whereas the Commission maintains its stand that online degrees are not accepted in Nigeria at the moment, this does not include the approved Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme run within the shores of Nigeria.

The Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme is a legitimate and well thought out pilot e-learning initiative. It is a Public Private Partnership between the National Universities Commission (NUC), Park Associates E-Learning Group, and four federal universities. Its goal is to provide new opportunities for students to access university education in Nigeria.

The four Participating Universities are:

- i. University of Uyo;
- ii. National Open University of Nigeria;
- iii. Usmanu Danfodiyo University, Sokoto; and
- iv. University of Maiduguri.

Students enrolled in the Programme can select any of the following undergraduate degree programmes: Economics, Banking & Finance, Accounting, Business Administration and Marketing for which they have requisite qualifications. The Programme for now is only available for candidates who wish to obtain BSc Degree in Economics.

The Commission wishes to use this medium to allay all fears and doubts concerning the legitimacy or NUC endorsement of the Nigerian Universities e-Learning Programme. This is one of the avenues that the National Universities Commission is exploring to increase access to university education without compromising quality. Students in the Programme are therefore advised to continue to pursue their studies without fear and prospective applicants are encouraged to enrol. Concerned parents, guardians, students and the general public may contact the Commission for further clarification on the Programme under reference.

Signed

The attention of the Management of the Tertiary Education Trust Fund (TETFund) is drawn to the mischievous activities of some unscrupulous elements that are visiting public Universities, Polytechnics and Colleges of Education and some regulatory agencies and presenting themselves as staff of, and working with, the Chairman-designate of the Board of Trustees of TETFund. They usually meet the head of an institution, the bursar and/or director of works/physical planning to make all sort of offers/promises of TETFund intervention projects to be allegedly brought to the institution by the Chairman-designate. In exchange, they make different frivolous requests including nominating contractors/consultants and, in many cases, request for financial gratifications.

The Management of the Fund therefore wishes to inform the beneficiary institutions of TETFund in particular and entire public in general that these mischief-makers have nothing to do with TETFund and all their entreaties should be ignored. Anyone that enters into any transaction with them does so at his/her own risk.

All TETFund Staff on official assignment to any institution carry identification and an introduction letter to the head of the institution.

Heads of our beneficiary institutions or members of the public who require any clarification on the activities of the Fund may also call 0800-TETFUND (0800-8383863) or visit our website www.tetfund.gov.ng.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION IPSAS IMPLEMENTATION

 Nexia
Agbo Abel & Co

Introduction:

The Federal Executives Council at its meeting held on 28th July 2010 approved that Nigeria should adopt the provisions of the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) for Private and Public Sectors respectively.

Consequently, the Federation Accounts Standards Allocation Committee (FAAC) at its meeting held on 13th June 2011 setup a Sub-Committee to provide a roadmap for the implementation of IPSAS in the three tiers of government in Nigeria.

The Roadmap to the adoption of IPSAS was phased as follows:

- Full Adoption of IPSAS Cash effective from 1st January, 2014.
- Adoption of IPSAS Accrual effective from 1st January 2016.

The National Universities Commission (NUC) has commenced the IPSAS implementation project that will enable a seamless adoption of the IPSAS accrual in the preparation and presentation of Financial Statements in line with the directives of Federation Accounts Allocation Committee (FAAC) Sub-Committee on implementation of IPSAS.

Implementation Approach:

NUC is partnering with Nexia Agbo Abel & Co, to adopt a phased implementation approach which shall focus on the following areas;

- Regulatory Compliance
- Technical Accounting & Reporting
- Knowledge & Resource Management
- Process, Technology & Infrastructure

Expected Benefits:

At the end of this implementation project, NUC's financial reporting is expected to be fully IPSAS accrual compliant in line with the directive. This will ensure greater level of transparency, accountability and consistency in financial reporting just like similar Public Sector Entities (PSE), high-quality financial statements based on globally acceptable standards and audit efficiency.

Implementation Committee

In line with the National Treasury Circular Ref. No. TRY/A5 & B5/2014 and OAGF/CAD/POL/C.0301/VOL. I/VOL.I of 23rd October 2014, the composition of the Commission's IPSAS Implementation Committee include:

List of Universities with Approved Postgraduate Programmes

The National Universities Commission (NUC) has observed with great concern that some Nigerian universities are running unapproved postgraduate programmes, leading to the award of Masters and PhD degrees. The Commission has also observed that some Parastatals and Institutes are awarding these same Postgraduate degrees, either on their own or through unapproved affiliations with Nigerian and foreign Universities. Such practices are not only unethical, but also antithetical to time-tested quality assurance best practices. The qualifications/awards resulting therefrom are not recognized. The Commission hereby notifies the general public that only the following universities have approval to offer postgraduate programmes at the Masters' and Ph.D levels in Nigeria, as of 30th July, 2012:
